Virtual training week 21.-27. June 2020

Preparation of a transnational media coverage of the EU Presidency

In the second half of 2020, Germany will assume the presidency in the Council of the European Union. In addition to the creative process, an international team of young media makers will support the German presidency and discuss the topics that they consider being at the very top of the agenda. The virtual training seminar prepares the participants to European politics and media competencies through workshops regarding the content and strategy of their transnational reporting.

Project is funded by Federal Press Office and German Foreign Ministry.
